Lansing Man Killed On K.P. Lake Road Curve

A 28-year-old Lansing man was killed after being thrown from his vehicle after losing control and rolling it over Friday, Oct. 16. The driver, Gregory Miller, was traveling alone west bound on County Road 612 at an apparent high rate of speed sheriff deputies said. He failed to maintain control of his vehicle on the curve at K.P. Lake road in Lovells Twp. He was not wearing a safety belt, police said.

The Frederic Ambulance Corps and Crawford County Sheriff Dept. responded to the scene. The accident occurred at 7:25 p.m. and is still under investigation.

Of the three fatal accidents in Crawford in 1987, all of the victims were not wearing safety belts or strapped in a child safety seat, sheriff deputies said.

Clocks Fall Back Sunday

Sunday morning, Oct. 25, at 2:00 a.m. clocks should be set back one hour as Crawford County goes off Daylight Savings Time.

2-Way Telecommunication System Planned for '88 School Year

The implementation of the joint COOR Intermediate School District - Kirtland Community College two-way interactive instructional telecommunications system is being planned for the Fall of 1988.

The two-way interactive instructional program will link schools within a district and two or more local school districts with each other. Each school district can then make low-enrollment classes possible, by sharing one teacher who can reach students in several school districts via two-way television.

Recent meetings of COOR Intermediate School District and Kirtland Community College personnel have included discussions on system operation and funding. These discussions have also been concerned with the placement of equipment in schools and the scheduling of class offerings.

Wetland Regulations Will Be Topic for Soil and Water Conservation Annual Meeting

Richard Sikkenga, DNR Land Resource Programs Supervisor from Region II, will speak on updated information on the wetlands designation at the Annual Meeting of the Crawford-Roscommon Soil and Water Conservation District on Monday, October 26th.

The meeting will be held at the Gerrish-Township Municipal Building on County Road 100 near Higgins Lake at 7:00 p.m.

Veterans to be Saluted by Grayling State Bank

All Veterans will be honored by a ceremony Wednesday, November 11th, at the Grayling State Bank featuring the color guard and firing squad from the 1071st of the Michigan National Guard at Camp Grayling. Others taking part in the ceremonies will be members of the Grayling Post 106 of the American Legion and members of AMVETS No. 14 of Higgins Lake.

The ceremony will also feature American Flags given by the United States to families in memory of those who served their country. Any area family who would like their flag included in this memorial service should call the Grayling State Bank, 348-7631. Flags will be returned after the ceremony with a certificate of acknowledgement from the bank, Jack Alef, president of the bank stated.

The ceremony is planned for 10:30 a.m. and will end at 11 a.m. the time the Armistice was signed.

River Clean-up Heads County Board Business

by Don Geiss

The windup of the AuSable River clean-up campaign and the volunteer work of Crawford County jail inmates were major items of business during the abbreviated county Board of Commissioners meeting last week.

One commissioner left a sickbed to attend the meeting, another was too ill to attend and a third was in Europe on an official visit which created the unusual situation where little could be accomplished. In order to pass any resolutions which involve money, the commission must have a two thirds majority and so Commissioner Larry Mattis was urged to attend the meeting after assurances that every effort would be made to handle only business that needed the extra vote first.

After approving the monthly expenditures the commission heard a report from Bob Smock about the results of the clean-up campaign. He said that 67 bags of litter were removed from the AuSable River and its tributaries. North and South Down River Roadsides were cleaned as were many of the access roads and 196 bags of trash were picked up.

Smock asked the commissioners if there could be a possibility that the ordinance for littering might be changed to increase the fine from $100 to $500. It was suggested that he contact the various townships to determine if they would be willing to step up enforcement of the litter law.

On a related matter Sheriff Harold Hatfield reported that the clean-up campaign was a very successful program for the jail inmates. He pointed out that the inmates were given one half day sentence credit for each day they volunteered to work on the project. Eight inmates earned a total of 143 days jail credit and there were a total of 154 community service hours served as well. He noted in his report that "there are a lot of incarcerated people that could reduce jail time and pay off court costs and fines—both, saving taxpayers money - by working on this community service program."

Hatfield and Smock recommended that a full time Community Service supervisor be hired each summer. They noted that it is extremely difficult to obtain a volunteer to do the job as happened this past summer.

The commissioners heard a report from county Treasurer Joe Wakeley who indicated to them that a piece of county property north of the city on Old 27 had been sold to Tony Latusek. He said ground clearing is underway for a new Grayling Power Equipment Company facility on the site.

The commissioners then turned their attention to committee appointments for the Board of Canvassers. Reappointed on the Republican side was April Andrus and from the Democratic party David Lemmen. They also accepted Jon Thompson's resignation from the Planning Commission and appointed Bill Coy to fill that position.

Joyce Kolka was approved as a temporary secretary to the county Housing Commission to replace Jeannine Eggert who will be undergoing surgery. An additional committee assignment was that of Don Geiss' reappointment for a third three-year term on the Social Services Board. The commissioners recommended to Mercy Hospital that Helen Crawford be appointed to the Medical Control Authority and that Crystal Filley be made her alternate. They also recommended that Larry Akers be the communications appointment to the authority. Hatfield informed the commissioners that he had employed George Anthony as Marine officer.

County Meetings Set To Discuss Land Use, Zoning with Consultant

Preparing a Master Plan for county land use and revising the Crawford County zoning ordinance will be discussed at three public meetings set for Wednesday, Oct. 28, Thursday, Oct. 29, and Friday, Oct. 30.

Leading the discussion will be Robert Hotelling, a planning consultant with more than 41 years of experience. Hotelling was hired by the county a year ago to prepare a Master Plan and revise the current zoning ordinance. The meetings are being held to receive public comments and suggestions concerning zoning and land use.

The Wednesday, Oct. 28, meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the courthouse. The Thursday and Friday meetings will be at 9:30 a.m. at the courthouse.

Property owners associations, sportsman groups, township officials, and other groups are being invited to the meetings by the Crawford County Planning Commission.

Hotelling, who has been gathering data on the county during the last year, will also speak at Rotary Club meetings in Grayling and Roscommon that week.

Among the topics that could be brought up at the meetings are orderly development of the county, transportation systems, utility systems, commercial and industrial growth, and protection of natural resources.

Hotelling has published more than 300 books, reports, manuals, and articles on community planning, zoning, and land use. He was a professor or urban planning and a community planning specialist at Michigan State University for 23 years.

United Way Funds Development of Precious Resource ... Our Children

(Editor's Note: This continues our series of articles focusing on the local agencies funded by the Crawford County United Way).

Of the 11 local agencies funded through the Crawford County United Way, nine are programs geared towards the development of Grayling's most valuable resource - our children. Two of the funded agencies for 1988 take care of our children daily, the Crawford/AuSable Day Care Center and Mercy Child Care Center.

Over 50 infants and children are enrolled at the Crawford/AuSable Day Care Center located on Old Lake Road. Director Pam Fisher founded the private, non-profit organization which is licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Services. The children learn through play, caring and sharing.

Programs offered include the only licensed care setting in this area. With 12 infants enrolled in the program, there is currently a waiting list of parents who have children under the age of 2½ in need of day care services. The Infant/Toddler program is for children ages 2 weeks to 2½ years. There is also a pre-kindergarten curriculum for children 3-5, an after school program for children 6-9, a volunteer program for child care aides age 10-11, and Positive Parenting classes for families in need. A staff of 10 along with three foster grandparents take care of the children.

At the Mercy Child Care Center, the philosophy of learning through caring and sharing is emphasized on a daily basis. The Center is open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. to accommodate the work schedules of today's parents. Founded one year ago, the Child Care Center is located adjacent to Mercy Hospital in the former convent. A large play area in the back yard was recently renovated by a crew from Camp Lehman. Funding for the new outdoor equipment came from a variety of fund raising activities conducted by the Center's Parents Advisory Committee.

Community Raises $3,760 To Fund Middle School Drug Awareness Program

The community has joined to raise $3,760 to fund a program to help children develop drug-free life styles.

The Weyerhaeuser Foundation donated $2,000 and the Grayling Lions Club, Grayling Kiwanis, the Crawford County Library, and Grayling businessman Jim Shepler donated a total of $1,760.

The program, called the Lions-Quest Program "Skills for Adolescence," is the result of an effort by the local Lions Club to establish the program in our school district.

The Quest program will be taught to middle school students. Part of the donations will pay for 380 student textbooks and workbooks and 100 percent textbooks.

Russ Shepard, Grayling Lions Drug Awareness Chairman and past Lions District Governor, said the program should have far-reaching effect on the attitudes of youth in our community.

Number of Bachelors In Auction Increases to Nine

The third annual United Way Auction will get underway at 6 p.m. on Saturday, November 7th, at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Ron Sprague, local auctioneer, and his assistant Shelly Wakefield have donated their services for the evening, and the Knights of Columbus have donated the use of their hall. Local stores have donated items for free snacks at the tables and there is a cash bar available.

This year's auction promises plenty of items. Glen's Market has donated a 12 speed bike, Advanced Business Machines an electronic typewriter, a collectors plate from Flo's Hallmark, and a 12 x 12 astro turf carpet from Grayling Floor Covering. There are 17 items from Fabiano Brothers including bar items such as name brand mirrors and steins. Local basketweavers will donate a variety of handmade baskets, and there are a number of collector's item limited edition steins from Superior Janitorial Service.

A first for this year is a fabulous prize board that everyone can participate in, and of course - the exciting "piece de resistance" - an opportunity to spend an evening with one of Grayling's most eligible bachelors. The number of bachelors has now soared to nine. That's right girls, nine of Grayling's finest for an evening and dinner for two. We hope to have a picture for you next week. So start looking in your savings account and your piggy bank and decide just how much you'd like to donate to United Way.

A regular part of the auction will be the savings bonds donated by our financial institutions. This is an item that improves with age. Tickets for this fun evening are available from Gloria Kraus at the Village Shop, Moe McNamara at Mac's Drugs, and Ivan Gwilt at the Grayling State Bank. Tickets will be available at the door.

Creators of 'Jesus Christ Superstar' Present New Production at KCC

The Weyerhaeuser Performing Artist Series at Kirtland Community College will present the Barksdale

Theatre's production of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" by Andrew Lloyd Weber and Tim Rice, on Sunday, October 25, at 7 p.m. The performance will be in the Gilbert I. Stewart Auditorium.

"Joseph" is a contemporary version of the Old Testament tale about Jacob's favorite son. He's betrayed by his jealous brothers but bounces back thanks to his ability to interpret dreams. The music has the same easy "pop" quality that made it's creators famous with their "Jesus Christ Superstar", thus making the show very popular with young and old alike.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch says, the "Barksdale Theatre's production is electrically exciting...a splendid production...brilliantly presented."

Tickets for "Joseph" are $9.50, 8.00, and 6.50 for regular admission; and $7.50, 6.00 and 5.00 for students and senior citizens. Tickets can be purchased at the KCC Bookstore or by calling Kirtland Community College at 275-5121 or 800-433-2517. Remaining tickets will go on sale at the Auditorium Box Office one hour before curtain.

Major funding for the Series is provided by the Weyerhaeuser Foundation and also funded in part by the Kirtland Foundation.

Mercy Hospital Special Auxiliary Meeting Planned

Mercy Hospital will have a Special Auxiliary meeting at the board meeting room Nov. 4 at 10:00 a.m. The speaker will be Robert J. Maher. All board members are asked to come.

County Tourist Businesses Asked To Return Inventory Surveys

The Center for Tourism Development is currently collecting data to complete an inventory of tourism-related facilities and businesses. Over 1000 questionnaire forms have been mailed out to lodging, food service, recreational and retail shopping businesses in the counties of Crawford, Gladwin, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Clare, and Roscommon.

An encouraging number of questionnaire forms have already been returned. Businesses which have not yet mailed their questionnaires back will be contacted either by mail or phone requesting they complete and return their questionnaires to the Center for Tourism Development as soon as possible.

Upon completion of the inventory process, updated lists of services available to tourists will be supplied to Chamber of Commerce offices, business organizations, and regional and state tourism organizations. The data will also be used to create promotional material for the tourism industry of the six counties inventoried.

Also being collected is information about Historical Markers in the area, cross country skiing and snowmobile trail systems, public access sites and natural areas.

The Center can be reached by phoning Gayle Miller at 517-275-5121, Ext. 220.

For those of you who missed the annual Grayling Youth Booster Club dinner-dance last Saturday, the very REVEREND LEROY paid a visit and had everyone praising the Church of What's Happening Now. The Reverend Leroy's sermon included kind stories about the new Booster Club officers and concluded with a very spirited hymn. For anyone searching for that missing something in their lives, the Reverend will be making an appearance at the United Way auction in November.

Outgoing President "SERVIN" IRVIN McISAAC was a model speaker the entire night at the Booster Club dinner. Someone who didn't go to the dinner bet me $5 Irv couldn't make it through the whole night without slipping in one of his special type of jokes. So I'm telling you it's just a rumor Irv told a joke about thumbtacks right near the end of the presentations.

The new Booster Club officers introduced at the dinner are president TOM COORS, vice-president MARTY VANDEVEN, treasurer JOHN ALEF, and secretary BETTY WORDEN.

An Open House for the Grayling Middle School will be held Monday night (see pages 16-17). If you were ever a student in this building, you'll have fun visiting the new place and comparing the old with the new.

I've watched parts of the World Series games but they haven't yet matched the excitement of following the Tigers through the last part of the regular season.

The scoreboard watching started early this year, even before the All-Star break, with the Tigers chasing Toronto and New York. As early as August, people began pointing toward the two Toronto series.

The build-up for Detroit versus Toronto was a lot longer than the Tigers-Twins match-up. The Tigers were playing for the East title only three days before the first play-off game in the Homer Dome.

Despite the way the Tigers lost, the season ended on a high note, I thought, because of the last game when close to 50,000 people gave Darrel Evans that tribute. I wonder if Willie Hernandez understood what was going on?

Letters to the Editor

50 Units Were Wired with Copper

In last week's Avalanche, there was an article about the Housing Commission getting a grant to improve the units. There is an error in the article, either a print error or not knowing the facts. I quote "He said, that 70 of the units were originally wired with aluminum cable and must be rewired with copper" etc. I wish to inform you that the first 50 units built in 1966 were all wired with copper wiring - that is units 1 - through 50. Units 51-70, built in 1972 were wired with aluminum. They were designed with copper wiring but HUD allowed the contractor a change order to use aluminum at a reduced price.

Hopefully they don't have to rewire the first 50 units. All senior units in the first project built in 1966 had an alarm system and they were very helpful to the seniors to summon help. They may need repairs or updating after 20 years, I don't know. Project 2 built in 1972 did not have alarms as HUD took them out of the design proposal as they did not feel them necessary.

It would have been so inexpensive at that time to include the third wire in the cable but we were forbidden to install them.

The persons need the security of the emergency alarm so it pleases me to have those living in the second project to get alarms as well.

A former Grayling Housing Commission member.

Bork Vote Puts Senators on Record

To the Editor: Hooray for Judge Bork! His perseverance in his nomination to the U.S. Supreme Court will give the American voters a written record of the U.S. Senators who want to politicize the Supreme Court.

It will give the American voters a head count of the Senators who are "patsies" of some very lunatic fringes of American society.

Let's have all our Senators on record this time. The voters will know how to respond at the appropriate time.

I urge every Michigania to write to Senators Riegle and Levin to express their views.

Yours truly, William H. Smith Grayling

Be Careful Buying Toys for Babies

Be careful about buying toys for babies that aren't wrapped and don't have a manufacturer or company's name on them.

For instance, there is a very colorful rattle being sold. The top is a circle with 4 small circles and a small silver bell which comes apart. Also the handle, which is a horn, is in 6 to 8 pieces which come apart leaving a baby with a lot of small pieces to choke on. These rattles do not meet safety standards.

Oregon's a Beautiful Place

by Richard Millman

REGULAR READERS of this column are aware that they are only infrequently exposed to a travelogue. Regular readers, incidentally, include my wife, a favorite aunt, and an ambitious cub reporter.

Usually in the fall, we attend the national convention of the National Newspaper Association. And so we did this year, too, returning recently from Portland, Ore.

NNA's 6,000 members include mostly weekly and small daily newspapers. Focus of the convention this year was advertising the lifeblood of any newspaper, from small weekly to metropolitan daily. Thus the meat of the sessions was primarily in-house material, with only an occasional general-interest speaker.

Unlike many newspaper organizations, NNA usually shies away from the headline-making speaker, and tends toward trade information, as was the case again this year.

For the old-timer, the trade show which accompanies the NNA meeting is mind-boggling. Everything is computers, computers, computers — from delivery systems to type setting to bookkeeping. If you can't cope with computers these days, you can't operate a newspaper business.

BUT THE STAR of the session, in my book, was Oregon itself. This was our first visit to the Pacific Northwest, and a memorable one it was.

Oregon is a beautiful place, with mountains and ocean almost side by side.

The Columbia River, running east from Arcadia on the coast past Portland and back into the mountains is a most impressive waterway. Actually, of course, the flow is from the mountains to the ocean — but it's impressive either way.

We took a trip east from Portland through the Columbia River Gorge and up to Mt. Hood. It was a memorable day.

South in the Cascade Mountains is Crater Lake, a haven of pure blue calmness in the bed of a volcano, hence the name. The first glimpse of Crater Lake deserves the over-used adjective of "breathtaking" for description.

From a practical standpoint, one of the bigger surprises going up into the Cascade Mountains to visit Crater Lake is the condition of the roads. We had expected some problems and slow going, but the highways are fast, modern and in excellent repair.

WE ALSO DROVE along the Oregon Coast of the Pacific Ocean, north from Florence to where Oregon meets Washington at Arcadia. Again, the scenery is varied and awe-inspiring, ranging from wide dunes in the south, to rough rocky shores further north, and including broad stretches of sandy beaches, too.

All in all, Oregon scenery matches any we've seen anywhere, including the Big Sur stretch of California coast. And we only visited the western portion of the state, too.

Except for the hovering mountains in the background, many of the forests and lakes reminded us of those in northern Michigan.

PORTLAND — LOCATED 60 miles or so inland from the Pacific Ocean — is on a downtown modernization kick, with much new development along the Willamette River. City bus rides are free, incidentally, and there is no state sales tax.

Parks and open spaces are many throughout the downtown area, including along the river front. And the service people we encountered generally were optimistic, friendly and helpful.

One notable condition in Portland is an abundance of street people. There appeared to be more wandering homeless folks than you would expect in a city of about 400,000 population. They appeared younger than expected, too, most of them in their 20s and 30s from appearances.

For example, at one city park we saw a young man, his worldly possessions in two shopping carts, busily washing his clothes in a fountain. Later in the day, we saw his laundry hanging out to dry on bushes and benches. And the next morning, we saw him with his newly-clean belongings in another downtown shopping plaza.

Others reported seeing some of the wanderers taking a bath in another park's fountain. But for all the street wandering we did ourselves over four days or so, we were only panhandled once.

HOW COME so many homeless wandering around Portland?

In Portland, for one thing, there is a large and well-used center for the homeless, started by a social worker from Cincinnati who moved westward; this is a magnet, according to some local testimony.

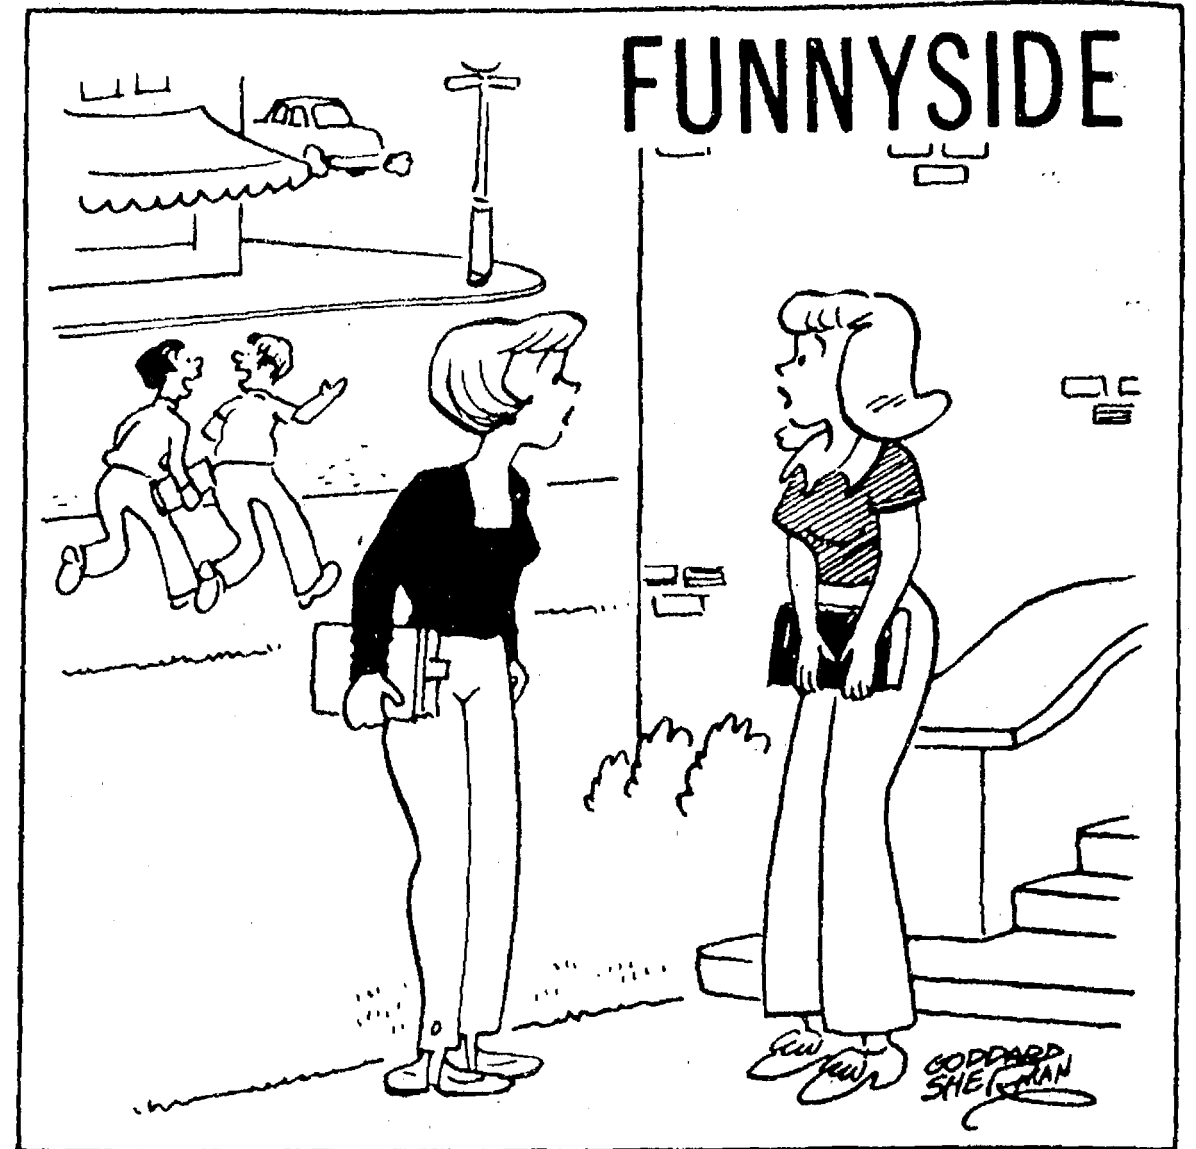

Then there is an abundance of green space in the city, coupled with generally mild weather year-round, as another factor.

And many of the homeless may be left over from the hippie culture of the 1960s and 1970s, including followers of religious sects which chose Oregon and Northern California for headquarters.

ALL IN ALL, a trip to Oregon is well worth taking. Oregon is a wonderful place to visit — and it appears to be a fine place to live, too.

There, that's the travelogue for this year. Next year's NNA convention is in San Antonio, after which there may be another travelogue.

I'll bet our regular readers can hardly wait.

Cole to Serve as Higher Education Advisor

By Warren M. Hoyt
Michigan Press Association

Governor James Blanchard's Chief of Staff Richard Cole is trading that position for a new office of special advisor on higher education.

The move by Cole, one of the governor's closest advisors, was seen by some observers as an intermediate stop to an administrative and/or teaching position at a college.

The governor did not previously have a specialist on higher education, although Tom Baldini has served as a general education advisor, and no state department serves as a specific advocate for those institutions. Blanchard said he needed a higher education advisor who is not distracted by day-to-day management.

"This is a difficult decision, but I have made this important decision based upon my commitment to higher education and my deep belief that it is time for Richard T. Cole to have this chance to again work in the area of his greatest public interest — education," Blanchard said.

Cole called his new assignment "an opportunity of a lifetime. It's exactly what I want to do."

He said he expects to continue to serve as a key advisor on strategy, saying most of the time he has been spending with the governor was simply on the business of the day.

Cole said he envisions his new role, which he said would be a short-term project, to travel to various campuses to talk with administrators, trustees, faculty and students to "get a sense for how they feel their future can be enhanced by state policy."

Cole said he doubts that activity will lead to a new report on higher education, but that he would be in consultation with other administration officials to push for policy changes.

In his new position, Cole said he will review and report on the implementation of the recommendations, issued in December, 1984, of the Governor's Commission on Higher Education, help colleges prepare to deal with potential student admissions under a new guaranteed tuition plan, and generally survey colleges for ideas to improve state higher education policy.

Cole said the higher education commission report has served as a "useful guideline" for the administration, particularly in budget matters like higher state aid to hold down tuition increases and a research excellence fund.

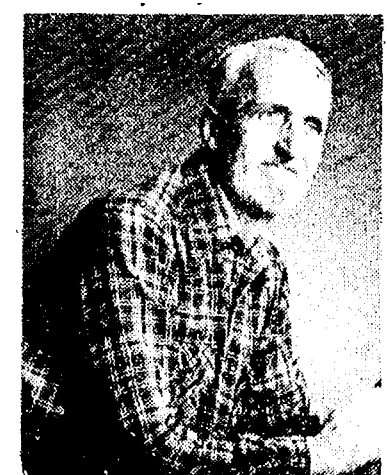

But many other key recommendations of the commission have languished, such as proposals for gubernatorial appointment of boards at three universities which are now elected for a higher education funding formula, and identifying special roles and missions for the various institutions to eliminate overlapping or duplicative programs.

Cole, who has a doctorate in administration and higher education, has been teaching one class a term at Michigan State University's College of Communication Arts and Science.

A Salute to African Violet Lovers

By Don Geiss

Another african violet plant has a flower. Perhaps they do realize when people talk to them or in this case talk about them.

We did not do anything different than we did prior to the editorial about violet leaves but for some reason a bud is peeking up above the leaves. The story of our plight certainly did make us aware of the many folks who raise african violets and the generous people who are willing to share their secret methods of making them flower.

For the benefit of others who are having the same problem, here are just a few of the ideas passed along to us.

Put a rusty nail in the pot. Put shells in the pot. Fertilize (we already did that). Put the plants in the east window. We explained that there is no east window handy for plants. We use artificial light. We were then told to place the light on the east side of the plants.

Another reader told us to place the plants in a north window. A very detailed suggestion came to us in a two page letter about watering the plants. Among the nono's were not to water the plants from above. The instructions were to repot the plants with a shoelace or something that would be like a wick sticking out the bottom of the pot. Then the top of an oleo dish should be cut in a circle just slightly larger than the bottom of the pot. The dish should be filled with water, the lid placed on top and the pot inserted in the lid.

Another lady told us that it will not hurt the plants at all to water them from the top.

Finally the suggestion that shook us to the very foundations of our green thumb ambitions. We were told to toss out the violets and start raising coleus because they are easy to raise and we did not have the intelligence to grow something complicated.

It is a good thing that reporters have a thick skin or we would be tempted to sue our wife for that remark.

The replies did humble us, however, because it made us realize that there are a lot of good people in the area who are willing to help a guy in need.

Thank You Grayling Day Wednesday, Oct. 21st

When we look back on our year the most important thing that has happened to us is the increase in the number of clients over the previous year. We know that this increase would not be possible without satisfied customers, and your understanding is very much appreciated. We know that there have been times when you have had to wait while we were serving other clients, and the phone has had to ring a little longer before we could answer, and sometimes our call backs were delayed. None of these things went without notice.

These are some of the things we have done to improve our service to you.

1. Added two more employees to our operation.
2. Upgraded our computer software and hardware. We now have two IBM computers and printers as well as a CRT work station.

Our service now is even better than it was in previous years and we would like to invite you in to look us over and have coffee, cider and donuts and let us show our thanks to "YOU" our customer.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Paul Thomson, George Stancil, Ann Hanson, Joyce Fox, Bette Thomson,

Vikings Roll Over Boyne City 30-16

The Grayling varsity football team pounded Boyne City 30-16 last Friday and completed a perfect 6-0 sweep for all the Grayling teams last week. The varsity and junior varsity teams won all six games they played last week.

The varsity took control of the game midway in the first quarter. After Boyne scored a touchdown and kicked the extra point, Jeff Palmer ran 55 yards on a reverse to give Grayling its first touchdown. Jeff Wolcott ran in the conversion to give Grayling the lead 8-7.

Later in the first quarter, Rusty Argue went over from four yards out for the second touchdown. Marty Jung added the two points on a keeper.

In the second quarter, Jung ran in on an option play and Wolcott added the two points for a 24-7 lead.

Boyne City scored in the second half to make it 24-13 but then Argue went in from 8 yards out on a fake reverse to Palmer. The extra point kick missed.

On offense, Viking head coach Don Stowers said Rusty Argue ran well and Jason Teddy, tight end, Ted Baynham, offensive tackle, and Jung, quarterback, played well.

On defense, he said the defensive ends Steve Lehti and Tom Shively played well and showed good improvement and the cornerbacks, Flaskie Robins and Jung, helped support well.

The Vikings are 3-3 in the league and 3-4 overall. They play Charlevoix at home this Friday and finish the year at home against Onaway.

Grayling won their fourth game in a row and improved their season record to 9-2 last week. The Vikings beat Rogers City 48-32 and Petoskey 44-42 in away games.

Grayling is 6-2 in the league and is chasing Gaylord 8-0 and Cheboygan 7-1. The Vikings lost to both teams on the road. But Grayling winds up with 7 of 9 home games including one each against Gaylord and Cheboygan.

Against Rogers City, Viking coach Howard Lehti said Grayling's team speed was a contributing factor in the easy win. The Vikings shot 55 percent and kept Rogers City off-balance with pressing defenses.

Grayling opened a 24-16 halftime lead and led 38-24 after three quarters.

Carrie Trudgeon led Grayling with 14 points, 7 assists, and 6 rebounds. Jenny Money scored 10, had 3 assists, and 5 rebounds. Melanie Ojala scored 10, had 2 assists, and 6 rebounds. Lori Gust scored 8, had 2 assists, and 7 rebounds. Deanna Phelps scored 4 and had 11 rebounds. Patty Tremblay scored 2, had 2 assists, and 6 rebounds.

Against Petoskey, Grayling jumped off to an 8-0 lead and the entire team played in the first quarter in what looked like an easy game. After the quick start, Grayling only led 15-8 after one quarter and 24-19 at the half. Petoskey came back to tie it 33-33 after three quarters.

"We lost our intensity after the first quarter," said Lehti. "In the second half Petoskey couldn't do anything wrong. They shot 60 percent and we shot 28 percent."

Grayling won the game at the free throw line hitting 13 of 24 to only 6 of 13 for Petoskey. Deanna Phelps hit a key free throw late in the game to give Grayling a two-point lead.

Ojala led the team with 16 points, Trudgeon scored 11, Money 8, Gust 6, Phelps 2, and Tremblay 1. Trudgeon and Ojala each had 6 assists and Phelps led the team with 11 rebounds. Gust and Tremblay added 7 rebounds each.

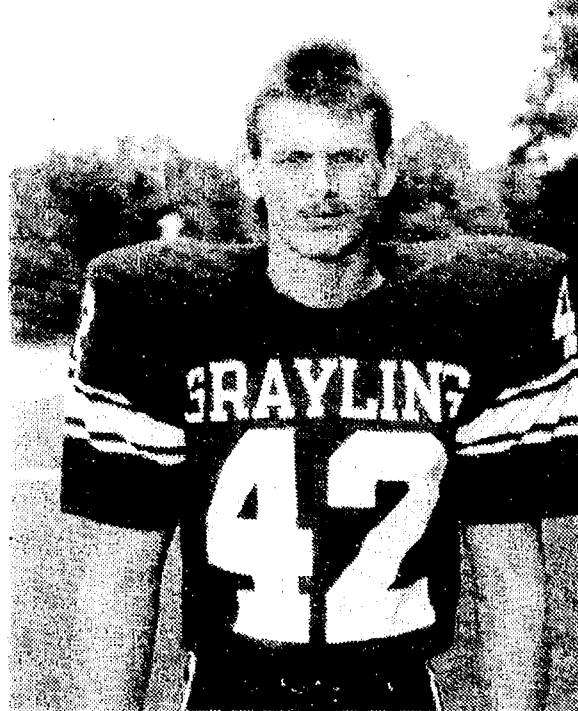

Lehti said the team has had an excellent turn-out of support for the away games and he hopes the home games will attract even more supporters.

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Brad Scheer

Oddly enough, a player once led the National Football League in BOTH being the best passer AND in intercepting the most passes the same season...Hall of Famer Sammy Baugh, active when players played both offense and defense, led the NFL in passing in 1943, playing quarterback on offense; and he led the league in intercepting the most passes that same year, playing safety on defense!

Ever wonder how many college football teams there are in the nation? ...There are 666 colleges that field football teams, and of those, 104 are classified as major-college teams.

One of the most amazing groups of brothers ever to play college football were the 3 Wister Brothers — Francis, Albert and Alvin — who played for the University of Michigan...ALL 3 were voted first-team All-America, an accomplishment never duplicated by 3 brothers on any level of collegiate competition...The 3 Wisteris all played tackle, and all wore the number 11... They played at Michigan between 1931 and 1949.

I bet you didn't know... that our sales team at Scheer Motors has a strong bull pen (with no "wills") and never gets picked off third base with the bases loaded and only one out. We made the World Series of car dealers and we intend to win! We have the hitters, we have the pitchers, and we are finishers! So come see us today!

Northland Tigercats Advance To Championship Finals

The Northland Tigercats returned from the 1987 Michigan Special Olympic soccer tournament with gold and silver medals. The event was held at the GM Tech Center in Warren on October 8-9.

The Tigercat J.V. squad captured their second straight gold medal in the six-a-side division and the Varsity squad fell in their bid to capture the Division I title by falling in a triple overtime match in the championship contest.

The Varsity teams placed ment in Division I made the first time ever that an Area 4 team has competed at that competitive level. The Tigercats opened the tournament with a 2-0 win over Okemos. Center Jerry Whaley, a Grayling High School student, scored both goals for the local squad. The championship game against Lutz school of Warren remained scoreless after two-overtime periods and was finally won by Lutz, 2-0, in a shoot-out.

The J.V. squad earned their gold medal with victories over Dearborn and Wayne-Westland. Crawford County olympians Tom Ferguson and Dawn Whaley each scored goals for the gold medal winners. Other Grayling area athletes on the teams are Chris Wylie and Chris Whaley.

A record field of 33 teams competed in this years tournament. The Northland squads whose other players came from Oscoda, Roscommon and Ogemaw counties were sponsored by the Area 4 Northland Special Olympics Committee.

Jr. Pro Draft Held Oct. 25

Jr. Pro basketball coaches will meet at 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 25, at Chief Shoppengons. Anyone interested in coaching this season should call Mike Shearer.

St. John Lutheran Church Celebrates 95 Years

October 18, 1987, was a memorable Sunday morning for the St. John Lutheran Church congregation. After service, they were invited to the family room where the tables were covered with white cloths and a red carnation on each. Red and white are the traditional colors of Denmark, whence our first members came from. After we were seated, we sang the Doxology. Sandwiches and chips were on the tables. Coffee was poured by willing hands.

On its own table was a beautiful cake, made by Eileen Chappel. Writing on the top said "St. John — 95 years." Little red carnations were the trimmings. A little Danish flag and a replica of the "Little Mermaid", brought by Elna Marshall, completed the decor. Lois LaGrow cut the cake, assisted by Clara Sorenson with helping hands from the children who served each person.

Ingeborg Leslie was our oldest confirmed member of this congregation. She had her confirmation certificate dated March, 1912, signed by Pastor Peder Kjolhede. Two other faithful, confirmed members with us were Ingeborg Raee and Ingeborg Libeke.

Rev. Robert Haskel was invited to be with us, as a former Pastor, but was unable to attend. Joyce and Lewis Sorenson celebrated their 35th Wedding Anniversary on this day. Lewis was privileged to ring the church bell 95 times at 12 Noon.

Bits of Talk by Fay Bovee

Mrs. Aileen Pond had her granddaughter, Jessica Carver of Lincoln Park, for a week's visit. Jessica's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Carver brought her up, then flew to the Bahamas for a vacation, and came back up to pick her up.

Junior and Betty Palmer spent three months in Alaska this past summer arriving home the middle of September. They spent some time at North Pole, Fairbanks, and did some fishing near Valdez. They also crossed the Arctic Circle and went to the Yukon River. They drove up and back with their camper.

Isotoner Gloves now available at the Village Shop in the Grayling Mall for both men and women.

Billie and Jerome Kessler flew to San Antonio and then on to the Midland-San Angelo area where they visited her grandson, Dan McKillop who is stationed there. In San Antonio they visited Jerome's granddaughter and husband, Lisa and David Nicks and in Katy they visited another of his granddaughters, Lauri and David Boleman. Last weekend Billie's daughter, Sharon McKillop, her daughter, Kerry McKillop and another daughter and husband, Mary and James OBarr, all of Taylor, were guests of the Kesslers. The previous weekend guests were his family, Roger and Phyllis Kessler of Midland and Jim and Rosie Kessler and children of Saginaw.

Here to attend the funeral of Harry Souders were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knuttila of Albuquerque, New Mexico, Richard Souder and son, Harry of Seabrook, Texas, Richard's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Montieth and Christopher of Seabrook, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Taylor, Christopher and Stephanie of Escanaba, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Post of Big Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walters of Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Pippo of Shawano, Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Corsaut of Cheboygan, and Mrs. Viola Middleton of Frederic.

Bob and Fay Bovee spent eight days on a trip to Saugerties, New York, where they visited their daughter and family, Billie and Richard Smith, Peter and Paul. While they were there, they drove to Farmington Woods, Avon, Connecticut, to spend a morning with Barbara Cornell Moriarty and her husband, Bob. She took them on a short tour of the area which included Farmington and stopped to visit her dress shop which she runs. She inquired about many Grayling people and sends greetings to old friends.

It is great to see all of the ghosts flying around Grayling — many people are really getting into the spirit of Halloween and decorating their homes with ghosts and pumpkins. Maybe this could be a yearly event the same as the white lights at Christmas has become. Anything to make our little city unique!

Toni Nielson of Romulus is proud to announce the birth of her first grandchild, Ryan Michael to Mike and Debbie of Wayne. He weighed 3 lbs. 1 oz. and is 16 3/4" long. Other grandparents are Al and Bev Nieman of Romulus and great grandmother, Florence Stephan of Grayling.

Isotoner Gloves now available at the Village Shop in the Grayling Mall for both men and women.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of William Laurent who passed away five years ago, October 21, 1982.

Often a lonely heartache, and many a silent tear, but always a memory, of the one I loved so dear.

Virginia Laurent

In Appreciation

The family of Harry Souders wishes to express their appreciation to all who cared for their husband and father during his long illness, the doctors, nurses, and staff at Mercy Hospital, as well as friends who called.

Thank you to Rev. Regan, the Masons, pallbearers, the women of the church and Eastern Stars who served lunch and all of our friends who sent flowers, cards, memorial gifts, food or helped in many ways at the time of his death.

Math Folders

Everyday during math our class make up the problems on worksheets. We learn to add in math class. We also work in the worksheets that Mrs. Akers gives to the class. We work in them, we give them back to the teacher, she corrects them, she gives them back, and then we put them in our folder. By Travis Weaver, fourth grade.

Mathematics

In our classroom we have flash cards. Mr. Hatfield calls up one row at a time. He will show a flash card for three seconds. If you do not guess the answer right you will have to sit down. At the end the people who get all the flash cards right will go there again until finally there is a winner. We do it just before lunch sometimes. We do it so that we can be good in mathematics. By Chris Kucharek, fourth grade.

Playing Quizmo

In math we play quizmo. You put red things on little spaces that have numbers on them. The numbers are answers to the problem the teacher says. They are addition and subtraction. And when you get a line you have to say "Quizmo" and you win a piece of candy. By Jenny Ohsowski, Miss Johnson's third grade.

Reading is Easy

I like reading because it is easy. I get it done fast. I am a fast reader unless I don't know a word. In school we write in a reading workbook and there is another book that is extra. That's even better because it is easy. We read out of a reading book called "People and Places." We do worksheets. They're fun because they are easy. I am in Miss Johnson's reading group in level 7. By Heidi Boerema, Mrs. McEvers' third grade.

Miss Applesauce

We are studying Miss "A". Because we are studying Miss "A" we are going to make applesauce. We are going to peel the apples and make applesauce. Then after we make it we are going to eat it. Dictated by Grant Kinney, Mrs. Nunn's kindergarten.

We made puppets in our room. I made Buffy and Mac. Buffy is a character in our books. Mac is the other one in our book. We made it with a paper bag and a piece of paper. We took them home. At home my cousin and I made food for them. They pretended to eat it. I liked doing it. Dictated by Katie Olson, Mrs. Yost's first grade.

Don't shoot rubber bands or don't run with scissors or pencils. Because you could poke your eye out. Mrs. C. Waller from COOR told us that in Miss Williams' room.

She came to our room and taught us Braille. She told us to feel it and write our name in Braille on paper. Braille is used for blind people so they can read and write. They can learn their ABC's. Dictated by Jeremy Jones, first grade

To all of our friends we would like to thank everyone for all their kindness and support during this trying time, everything was greatly appreciated. The special cards, the words of encouragement, the beautiful flowers, all the donations and the dishes that were brought in. Also a special thanks to Lt. Kirk Wakefield from the Crawford County Sheriff's Department for all he did.

Again we thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

From the family of Dale H. Mead

The Michigan Lottery's twice-weekly Super Lotto game offers players prizes for matching four, five or all six of the numbers drawn from a field of 44. The following summary provides answers to the most frequently asked questions about those prizes.

Q: How is the Jackpot amount determined for each Super Lotto game drawing?

A: The Super Lotto game's minimum Jackpot has been at least $1.5 million for each drawing. But, Super Lotto is a pari-mutuel game, so Jackpots and other prizes vary.

Q: What is a pari-mutuel game?

A: This means that the prize pool is based on ticket sales—how much money is wagered for a particular drawing. So, sales can push the Jackpot higher than the $1.5 million guarantee. And, the number of winners of second and third prize shares varies from drawing to drawing, as does the size of their prizes.

Q: What percentage of sales goes to the Jackpot amount?

A: Twenty-five percent of sales is allotted for the Jackpot prize, to be shared by the person or persons matching all six of the winning numbers drawn.

Q: How about for matching five numbers?

A: Players who match five of the winning numbers share eight percent of the amount wagered. Prizes have ranged from $867 to $4,465 but generally average about $2,500.

Q: And for matching four numbers?

A: Thirteen percent of the prize pool is shared by the Third prize share winners. Prizes have ranged from $47 to $144, again, depending on the amount wagered and number of players who share the third prize pool. Prizes average about $90.

Q: What happens to the remainder of the money?

A: The Lottery is charged with raising funds to help Michigan's school children. In the 1985-86 fiscal year, for example, the Lottery provided more than $415 million for education, the equivalent of $130 per Michigan household. The remainder is needed for costs of operating the Michigan Lottery and for commissions to retailers selling Super Lotto tickets.

Q: Can you tell me about some Super Lotto prize records?

A: The largest Jackpot to date, $15.2 million, was shared by three winners in the July 13, 1985 drawing. The largest individual prize, $13 million, was won by St. Joseph's Clifford Nutto in the August 15, 1987 drawing.

For submitting a question which led to this column, Vivian Honkala of Crystal Falls will receive 50 free tickets for the Lottery's current instant game, "Greenbacks."

If you have a Lottery question not yet covered in these monthly columns, send it to: "Winners Circle," Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 38077, Lansing, MI 48909.

Middle School Site History

A school has been located on this site since 1883 providing for the educational needs of the community. The present middle school building represents the fourth major school building project at this site spanning 105 years.

The first building, Grayling Central School, was constructed in 1883 at a cost of $4,500. It was a two story structure measuring 34 x 50 feet with classrooms measuring 14 x 22 feet. Three additions were made to the building between then and 1915 when the building burned. Fire was discovered at 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, January 21, 1915, while students were home for lunch. Within one hour, the building was completely consumed by flames. For the next year, students attended school in the G.A.R. hall, Danebod hall, M.E. and Presbyterian Churches, the town hall and the Temple Theatre.

A new school building was planned immediately following the fire. A bond issue was passed April 15, 1915, and construction began on May 13 of 1915. The present three story section of the middle school building was completed in December and opened to students on Monday, January 17, 1916, at a cost of $55,665. The formal public opening was conducted on January 21, 1916, one year to the day following the fire.

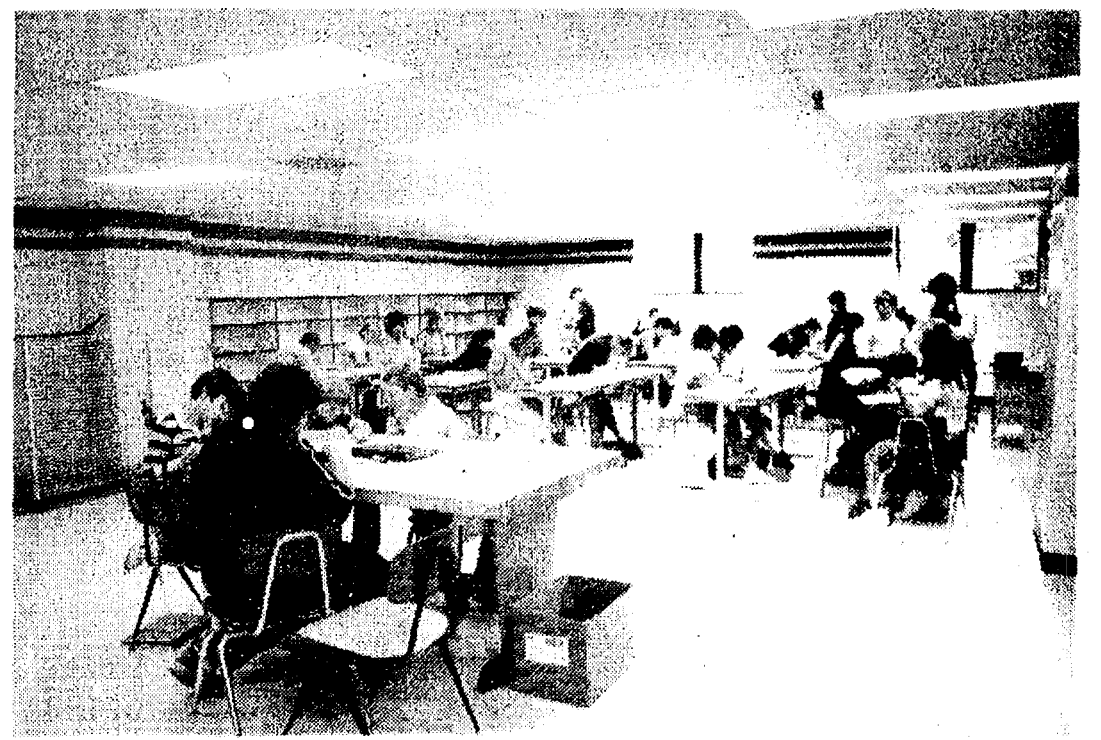

On Tuesday, February 16, 1954, a bond issue was approved to construct a community auditorium gymnasium, the present gymnasium, and to convert the old gymnasium in the basement to classroom space. The building was completed in the fall at a cost of $226,013.35 and dedicated December 1, 1955. A further renovation of the three story building primarily involving stairwell separations and ventilating duct work was completed in 1964 to meet fire marshal regulations.

On Tuesday, September 10, 1985, a bond issue was approved to thoroughly renovate the three story structure and gymnasium and to construct an addition connecting the two buildings. The building was closed for construction throughout the 1986-87 school year with students housed in the High School and Grayling Elementary. Work was completed in the late summer of 1987 at a cost of $4,629,971.25 and the building opened for students on Wednesday, September 9, 1987. A dedication and community open house will be held on Monday, October 26, 1987. The renovation and reopening of this historic site and community landmark represent the culmination of eight years of research, planning and effort by the Board of Education and community.

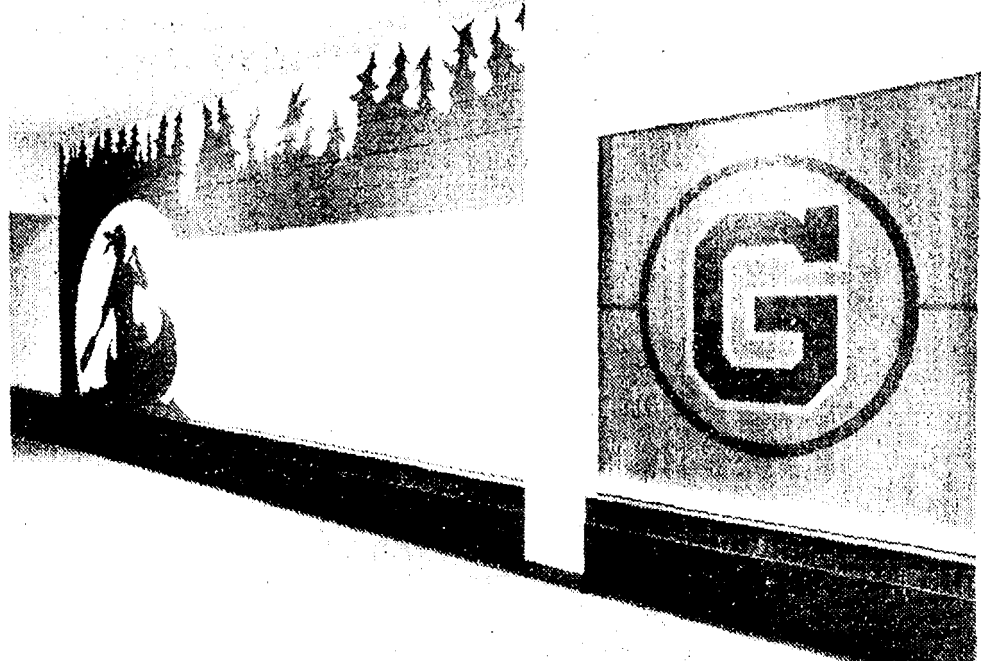

The building on this site housed students in grades K-12 from the beginning until 1964 when the Grayling Elementary was opened. Grades 7-12 were housed in the building beginning in 1964 with crowding conditions requiring the addition of portable classrooms in 1969. With the construction of a new high school building north of town in 1973, this building became a middle school housing grades 5-8 from then until the new Frederic Elementary opened in 1976. The middle school housed grades 6-8 from 1976 through 1986 when it was closed for renovation. The present grade configuration includes grades 5-8.

The Gospel of John Part 8 Christ's Herald Questioned

Who would have questioned John the Baptist? Why would leading Pharisee leaders question John the Baptist? What did John say and do which opened him to such questions?

In John 1:19-28 we find priests and Levites sent from Jewish religious leadership in Jerusalem to question the person and ministry of John the Baptist as he preached and baptized in Bethabara. Their first question was, "Who art thou?"

John denied that he was the Christ, (John 1:20). He denied he was Elias or any other great person? John the Baptist was a humble man. He could have said he was fulfilling prophecy from Isaiah 40. He could have said he was the messenger or forerunner of the Messiah prophesied in Malachi 3. He could have said his birth was the direct and miraculous work of divine intervention. (Luke 1:7, 13). He could have said he was filled with the Holy Ghost from his mother's womb. (Luke 1:15). He could have said he was named and called of God. (John 1:6). He could have said he had the honor of baptizing the Messiah. He could have said he was called the greatest human being ever born by the Messiah. (Matt 11:11).

Finally, the Jews asked him, "What sayest thou of thyself?" (John 1:22d). "He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias." (John 1:23). Only a voice? A voice sounds so impersonal. John the Baptist claimed only to be a channel through which the Word of God could be sounded forth. Every true minister of God is only a voice box for the precepts and principles of God's Holy Word.

Next they asked John, "...Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that prophet?" (John 1:25). This is the natural thinking of humanity. If one is a voice for God's Words, or a servant to administer church ordinances like baptism, then one must be either more holy or claim to be more holy than others. This shows ignorance of Bible Christianity. John told them the problem, "...there standeth one among you, whom ye know not." (John 1:26b). Those who do not know Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior cannot accept his servants either. Those who accept Jesus Christ as God, listen to the voice of his servants who are instruments through which the Word of God is preached. The greatest prophet whoever lived was not worthy to remove the shoes from the feet of the Messiah. (John 1:27). Jesus Christ is to have the preeminence in all things. (Col 1:18). His best servants are humble.

Scripture reference:
Matthew 22:34-40

There were two rival groups vying for control of the Jewish people, the Sadducees and the Pharisees. Both are opposed to Jesus. Since the Sadducees had been reduced to silence by the Master, the Pharisees in their turn seek to embarrass Him; if they succeed, they will obtain a twofold victory, outdoing the Sadducees, and ruining the prestige of Jesus. They assembled in a body and agree to send one among them, a specialist in the Law, to question Jesus about one of the problems which was the subject of endless discussions among scribes and teachers. For they had separated the Law and had distributed its contents into 613 commandments - 365 prohibitions and 248 ordinances.

Neither of the two groups knew the spiritual freedom of love. We can understand how this could give rise to a need for a simplification of the Law. The Pharisees question Jesus about this simplification. Christ's answer was not new. It was in line with the Law originally given by God. It is a reminder. Jesus reminds them to put man in a relationship of love with the God Who is Love. The equality of love that comes from God must unite men among themselves by reflecting this Divine love. The first commandment is to love God and the second is to love thy neighbor.

Since the Incarnation, God has become human. He has assembled a mind, body and soul just like any other human being. He is involved in loving in the Divine and the human sense. He understands how love makes people accessible to others. The Son of God makes Himself personally accessible to the power of loving which dwells in man.

Let us not forget that we have been taught how to love by the Perfect Lover and we are called to follow His example.

WORDS FITLY SPOKEN

Anger shot through me like a double-edged sword. It turned and twisted, threatening to wound me for a day whose plans would demand my best energies and most creative ideas.

It happened when I opened a monthly bill that had been victimized by a computer-gone-sour, and no doubt by several clerks who had been "out to lunch" while the computer compounded the complications.

I girded for battle as I dialed the offending company's number. But the answering voice of the young lady completely diffused me! Her pleasant voice-tone, her readiness to help, her sincere apology, all combined to ease my pain and soothe my anger.

By the time the conversation concluded, I felt good. The young lady solved the problem and her beautiful voice, reflecting genuine concern, turned my day into "a thing of beauty."

As I hung up the phone and turned to the demands of the day, that beautiful phrase from Proverbs surfaced: "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in baskets of silver." (Proverbs 25:11)

And so it is.

City Council Proceedings

Regular meeting of the City Council held September 28, 1987

Meeting called to order by Mayor Thompson at 7:30 p.m.

Members present: Golinick, Sloan, Thompson, White.

Members absent: Latuszek.

Also in attendance: Jerry W. Morford, City Manager; Allen V. Schreiner, City Treasurer; Kevin Kamph, Lori Bentley, Missy Jackson, Wanda Millikin, Roy Knight Jr., Michael Knight, Ernest Dawson, Michael Brigham, Mark Lowe, Steve Peterson, Karman Hagerman, Patrick Nunn, Tracie Kurk, Peter Stephan, Gloria Stephan, A. Donald Sorenson.

Moved by Golinick, supported by White that the minutes of the meeting of September 21, 1987 be approved as corrected. Ayes: 4, Nays: 0, Absent: 1, motion carried.

Citizens who wish to speak. None.

Communications were received and noted.

*Ms. Latuszek was now present.

From City Treasurer re: August Financial Statements. Council persons asked several questions.

Old Business.

Discussion of a computer for the Police Department took place. Chief Stephan presented his current cost estimate for the purchase and yearly operation of the equipment. His cost estimate showed a one-time expense of $8,750.00 for hardware and software with a projected annual operating expense of $2,286.00. Numerous questions were asked by Council. Mr. White suggested that Chief Stephan and Ms. Latuszek discuss this matter with Crawford County Officials to determine what they are going to do. Chief Stephan stated that he did not believe that they would join in this effort at this time. Antrim, Kalkaska, Otsego counties and the Gaylord City Police could possibly be sharing the software expense with the City of Grayling. Ms. Latuszek noted that in the future we should also purchase a computer for the administrative office with a word processor. Mr. Golinick stated that possibly that matter could be handled at a later date. Chief Stephan stated that he felt that a decision should be made soon on the police package and that if a decision to buy was made tonight, the county sheriff could be approached later. After a great deal of discussion, the following motion was made:

Moved by Sloan, supported by Latuszek that if the suggested program has six (6) unit participation the city should become a part of the effort at a cost not to exceed $12,000.00 for purchase of equipment and first year operation. Ayes: 5, Nays: 0, Absent: 0, motion carried.

Moved by Golinick, supported by Sloan that Ms. Latuszek work with the City Manager and Treasurer to try to obtain a computer for the administrative office when the matter has been carefully researched. Ayes: 5, Nays: 0, Absent: 0, motion carried.

New Business.

Mr. Morford presented a letter from Raymond Denno requesting to purchase some city owned property at the corner of Maple and Ingham Street. His letter stated that the 60' x 120' would not be worth more than $500.00 to him.

Moved by Golinick, supported by Latuszek that Mr. Denno's bid be rejected as too low. Ayes: 5, Nays: 0, Absent: 0, motion carried.

Reports of City Manager. Mr. Morford reported on the following:

Volunteer Fireman Resolution to be presented next Monday. C.S.I.P. status and upcoming meeting October 6th.

Moved by Golinick, supported by White that the City Manager and Ms. Latuszek be authorized to attend the dinner meeting arranged by C.S.I.P. at city expense. Ayes: 5, Nays: 0, Absent: 0, motion carried.

Reports of Council Members.

Mr. Thompson reported that he has received a letter from Ray's Canoe Livery regarding Ingham Street. Mr. Morford stated that the City Attorney has replied to the letter and that a full report will be made to Council when sufficient data has been collected to provide a full staff report.

Adjournment.

Moved by Sloan, supported by Golinick that the meeting be adjourned. Ayes: 5, Nays: 0, Absent: 0, motion carried. The meeting was adjourned at 9:11 p.m.

Motion Picture Pioneer George Olsen Founded Rialto

By Don Geiss

A business article about the Rialto Theater is not only a story about current local entertainment but it is also a tale of an era of graciousness and of a true showman, George N. Olsen.

The forerunner of the present theater was the Grayling Opera House which began operation in 1882. It occupied the lower level of the building that was situated where the Rialto now stands. The second floor was the Masonic Temple and the structure was owned by the Masonic Temple Association. During that time it provided live entertainment and continued to do so until silent movies were invented or at least were perfected to the point where they could substitute for the real thing.

It was not until Olsen came on the scene in 1911 that we take up the story of an entertainment business which eventually would be northern Michigan's equivalent of a show business empire. He managed the opera house for about four years and in 1915 he purchased it.

By the time Olsen purchased it, silent movies were all the rage and Mrs. Olsen (Leelah Clark) took on the task of playing the piano accompaniment epics. The history of the Olsens was made even more interesting for us when grandson and present theater manager George Stancil developed the story through the use of many old newspapers, souvenir handbills and programs.

Stancil said that when a truly big motion picture came to Grayling the producers would send along a complete musical score and Ed Clark and his orchestra would play. We mentioned to Stancil that one story has it that Olsen came to the theater every night in a tuxedo. He placed a new light then on the habits of those days and the role of the theater in the community.

People dressed up far more than they do now to go to the show, Stancil pointed out. The movies changed for many years three and four times per week, he said, and people might well go to the theater that often. He commented that in reality during that time going to the show was a social experience. Olsen was simply playing the role expected of a showman, particularly when 300 to 400 persons per night were in attendance.

Owning and operating the Grayling Opera House, later the Rialto was only the beginning of what we termed a show business empire. Olsen teamed with his brother Waldemar James Olsen in building and operating a chain of eight theaters including two in Gaylord, two in Houghton Lake, one each in West Branch, Clare and Rosebush.

The Pines theater was destined to become the most notable because its unique log cabin construction attracted the attention of story writers. At the Grand Opening of the Pines, Charlton Heston was the guest of honor.

During his sojourn as an impresario Olsen found time to be what Stancil believes was the youngest mayor of Grayling at 28. At that time the individual in that position was known as village president.

A major tragedy occurred in April of 1930 when the theater burned. In an effort to save people and the films, Olsen was badly burned. The film at that time was made of celluloid nitrate and as the name implies was very explosive. The projection room was very well fireproofed but unfortunately a ceiling vent permitted the conflagration to spread. As an interesting note the next feature film was saved and its title was "Anna Christie" with the star being Greta Garbo.

It took only about three months and the new theater was completed on the same site less the second story Masonic Temple. The show bill for the grand opening included "Hog Wild" with Laurel and Hardy. The feature movie was "Our Blushing Bride" with Joan Crawford.

A major change in the outward appearance of the theater occurred in 1940 when a new marquee was installed. Its hundreds of light bulbs totaled about 7,000 watts of electricity. Stancil said that during World War II the bulbs were turned off except for just a few under the overhang.

In 1954 the area lost its great showman and he was posthumously named to the Foundation of Motion Picture Pioneers. During his lifetime he was one of the founders and a director of the Cooperative Theaters of Michigan. Stancil said that it was a booking type of organization and its formation made possible certain advantages for small towns to obtain good movies soon after release.

Mrs. Olsen along with Georgianna and Thomas Stancil then operated the theater but sold their part of the partnership in the other movie houses to the senior Olsen's brother. Stancil commented that his grandfather always seemed to have retained the Rialto as a special place for himself.

During its history the Rialto became the world premier site for the film "Deliverance," Stancil said.

He noted that the movie featured archery equipment and of course Bear bows were highlighted. It was the first location in northern Michigan to have a cinemascope. The first film to be shown in that film format was "The Robe." Unfortunately George Olsen passed away just before it was shown.

Stancil mentioned some of the changes that have taken place in the local audiences, prices and affects of technology. He said that in the early days the troops coming to Camp Grayling would appear at the theater in uniform. He noted that they did not drive their own cars then and buses transported them to town and the movies were very popular.

There was a dramatic reduction in the number of people who attended the theater during the 1950's because of the impact of television. In the 1960's it climbed again but not enough to reopen the many places that had closed earlier. Stancil said that VCR's have not yet hurt the theaters. The typical audience ranges in age from 12 to 30, he said.

When the theater opened admission was 10 cents, when the fee was raised from 60 cents to 75 cents in 1960 the owners wondered if they had gone too far. Now, Stancil said it has ranged at about $3 for five years.

George Stancil took over as manager in 1982 and he and his brother have operated it since that time with four other employees. He said that over the years many young people worked for his grandfather and more recent managers. He said that there are many people in town who can remember having worked there.

The attempt here has only touched slightly upon the history of the Rialto and to its highly regarded founder

George Olsen. It is perhaps a history that should be written at length and printed in a separate publication because it deserves the longer treatment to be truly appreciated.

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP Blond Finishing Wood

I've always liked light-colored (blond) wood. How hard is it to re-finish wood and lighten it up?

Blond finishing wood is no more trouble to do than any other wood finishing project. Perhaps the only drawback is your choice of wood. Since the wood will be bleached, it should be close-grained (such as oak) and fairly new, since the bleaching agent may injure older wood fibers and/or mar the finish. The wood should also be on the light side to begin with. Bleaching black walnut, for example, may be an exercise in futility.

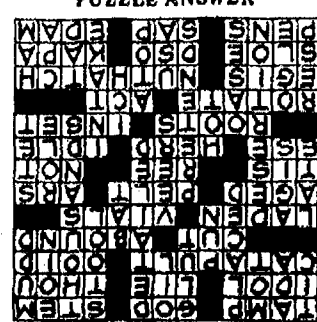

There are many brands of bleaching agents on the market today, and they can be purchased at most paint and hardware stores. You can even use ordinary household ammonia, but it is considerably weaker and you may not get the effect you want. Whatever you use, follow instructions carefully and by all means protect your eyes.

My grandfather tells me that blind-nailing is an art. How much of an art is it to sink a nail and cover it up with wood filler? How was blind-nailing done before wood filler came along? That's where the artistry comes in. Old-time woodworkers split the wood with a chisel, hammered the nail under the split, then glued the chip back in place, hiding the nail.

Can watering your lawn do more harm than good?

Frequent waterings of short duration encourage the root system of the grass to stay close to the top of the ground, where the water is. Shallow-rooted grass is more susceptible to disease and vulnerable to drought conditions. You should water your lawn so the dirt is soaked at least three inches deep. Check by taking a garden tool and splitting the dirt.

Three of the most common causes of hunting accidents in the past were victim mistaken for game, victim moving into line of fire and shooter covering victim. With a single law, Michigan and most other states have taken a giant step toward decreasing hunting accidents for these reasons.

I have written before about the requirement for hunters to wear blaze or fluorescent orange garments while afield. This artificial color is not found naturally and is instantly recognized by other hunters as sending a warning — "Don't Shoot".

Despite universal acknowledgement of the value of hunter orange, a few people persist in wearing camouflage, dull red, green or even brown while hunting. The reasons for not wearing orange vary: it is not traditional; it scares the deer; it costs too much; in some cases persons who are violating the law fail to wear it in an effort to conceal themselves.

Whatever the reason, failure to wear hunters orange is asking for trouble. Every year, accidents occur due to someone's failure to wear orange. The last deer season was no exception.

Whatever the reason a person has for not wearing blaze orange, it is not a good one. When I started hunting, my father told me that no animal is worth a person's life. That's a bit of advice everyone should get. I would like to pass it on as we enter the winter hunting seasons for deer, rabbits, grouse or whatever.

With the change in the weather the gulls that hang out in the area have diminished in number. According to one source, when gulls migrate they usually follow shorelines in search of food, but gulls have discovered many garbage dumps so this migration pattern may be somewhat different.

One source claims there are some 45 kinds of gulls, but my bird book lists only 20 species and of those only 4 are normally found in Michigan. The Great Black-Backed Gull, the Herring Gull, the Ring-Billed Gull and Bonaparte's Gull are those probably most often sighted.

Gulls have webbed feet, long pointed wings, usually a square tail, and a stout hooked bill. Since gulls eat almost anything, they are an excellent clean up crew. Despite the name Sea Gull, they seldom are found very far out at sea since they are not strong fliers. They much prefer to glide on their long wings and avail themselves of up drafts of warm air. Another reason for their wide distribution is that they can drink either fresh or salt water.

While gulls don't appear to keep company with their mate throughout the year, they do meet the same mate and breed at the same nesting spot year after year.

While gulls are excellent scavengers, their increase in numbers has become an increasing problem around airports. On the other hand, what would a visit to a lake-shore be without enjoying their graceful flight.

The Last Great White Hope

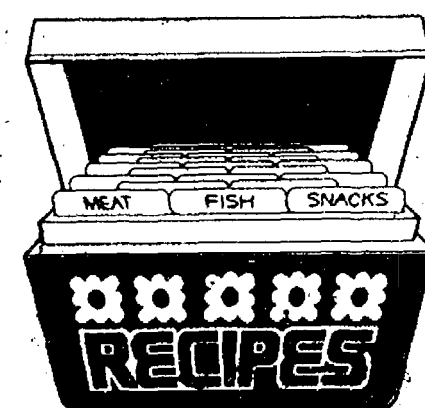

Here's to a hoopster in every way;
Son of a dentist named Dr. J,
Quick as a deer, great shots at will,
Five of this guy could be unstoppable.

Still a young fellow, broad-shouldered and tall,
Good job with D.D.D.; this guy has it all,
Patti's for a sponsor, or a new team name,
This fellow's talent is his claim to fame.

Very independent, all the ladies try to cope,
Some say he could be the last great white hope,
But we all know that nary a thing,
Can stop the eventual wedding ring.

If he had a weakness, anything at all;
Perhaps his temper could be his downfall,
If I had to choose the best man to send,
I'd go with John Juntilla, a winner in the end.

PARTRIDGE CASSEROLE

- 1 partridge
- 4 oz streaky bacon
- 1 onion
- 1 pint meat stock
- 2 oz mushrooms (optional)
- 1/4 pint cider
- 1 tablespoon flour
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 oz dripping

After you have plucked and drawn your bird, wash it out well and then cut up into joints. Put the flour, salt and pepper on a plate and dip each joint into it, then fry them in the dripping until they are brown on both sides. Tip into a casserole. Now chop up the bacon, peel and chop the onion, fry lightly and add them to the casserole. Cover with the stock and about 1/4 pint of cider. Tip in any seasoned flour that might be left on the plate and add the mushrooms. Cover and cook in a steady oven (gas mark 4, 355° F) for about 2 hours or until the partridge is cooked. Serve with mashed potatoes, mashed swede and Brussels sprouts.

With Planning, Small Homes Can Meet All Your Needs

Bigger isn't always better, especially in housing. Today's homeowners are finding that high operating and maintenance costs go hand in hand with a lot of space, which also may have prohibitive initial costs.

Other homeowners are entering the retirement phase of their lives and want small, easily maintained residences. For a variety of reasons, today's homes, mobile homes, condominiums and duplexes may have less square footage than those in past years. With a little planning, the scaled-down home can be more convenient and just as livable as yesterday's larger version.

To make a small living area efficient, start with the basic floor and wall design. If possible, remove unnecessary walls. The great-room concept integrates living, dining and family rooms with the kitchen. The total space is less than that required for each room separately, it's pleasant to look at and it's flexible to use. Furniture groupings, movable dividers, or bookcases can be used to define activity areas, such as TV viewing, conversation and study. Pillow, carpeting, draperies, upholstered furniture and fabrics tend to control noise.

When possible, double up on room use. A bedroom can be used for sleeping, studying, watching TV and sewing, thus freeing the living/family rooms for other activities.

To free floor space in multipurpose rooms, use your closet space to the maximum. Shelves, layered double clothes rods, drawers and closet additions will help you utilize every inch of space.

Don't forget that family members need privacy. If you are building or remodeling a home and have opted for the great-room concept, it will be important to provide privacy in bedroom areas. If two children share a room, try dividing it with bookcases, desks or even curtains.

Bathrooms can be made more functional by partitioning the lavatory from the toilet and bathing area. All three areas can be partitioned, in some instances.
